Dear John,

It was great to get your e-mail. Thank you. But, I think it was indeed MY privilege and pleasure to have come into your session on Corporation Physics. To say I was WOWd is an understatement! I am so impressed with how you designed and facilitated this incredibly creative instruction. Sitting back and observing the performance of your students was pure joy. I guess I was also particularly impressed because my background included teaching (7th grade Language Arts/Social Studies, when the integrated curriculum approach began,) then, moving into higher education where I've spent 23 years in Admissions, observing SO many students unprepared for college or employment (and reading and writing)... But I also had the privilege of stepping away from higher ed after my 17th year, to accept an unexpected opportunity to work for 8 years into the business world which included marketing and training, including TQM training in colleges and businesses. I know how challenging designing even traditional teaching curriculum can be; so, I was really fascinated how you were able to do what you did, with the subject of Physics with students! I raved about your session to Dr. Martha Huleatte and Tom Henry, who raved back and shared they were very familiar with your work. They said you and the students presented at the Governor's Summit on Education. What an honor to you and the students! Tom Henry informed me on Friday that when I come on board, he plans to appoint me as the liaison to a new Task Force on Higher Education he's a setting up. Perhaps that could be a forum for showing your Corporation. I begin my position on July 8th; and I will learn more about the position responsibilities then, and I will surely stay in touch. I'd consider it an honor to work with you and help promote the success you've created with those wonderful "REALLY EDUCATED" students! I'll stay in touch and will be at this e-mail address thru June 30th if you need to reach me. Sincerely, Nancy Hazelgrove
